Your Installation Chaplains

Former Installation Chaplain Lt. Col. Hebebrand: Lieutenant Colonel Larry J. Hebebrand joined the U.S. Army in 1971 following 26 1/2 years service. Finishing the last three years of his military career as installation chaplain for the Defense Language Institute and Presidio of Monterey, Lt. Col. Hebebrand officially retired from military service March 31. His next move will be to Oregon with his family and horses. Lt. Col. Hebebrand's memories: the Unity of the Protestant and Catholic congregations. His most memorable assignment: (other than the Presidio): Many, including Dugway Proving Ground working with the Rangers, White Sands Missile Range and V Corps Artillery in Germany during the 50th commemoration of the Battle of the Bulge.

New Installation Chaplain Lt. Col. Reese: Lieutenant Colonel Charles D. Reese, previously the Deputy Installation Chaplain for DLI-POM, was officially appointed the new DLI/POM Installation Chaplain on March 1. Lt. Col. Reese's joined the local military community July 1, 1997. His previous installation and job title/responsibilities prior to DLI/POM were the Iron Brigade (1st BDE) Chaplain, 2nd Infantry Division, Camp Casey, Korea (June '96-June '97); and Hospital Chaplain, Fitzsimons Army Medical Center (Jun '94 - Jun '96)

New Chaplain's Message: "The Presidio of Monterey Unit Ministry Team (UMT) is committed to providing the highest quality religious support to our community that we possibly can. I am fortunate to have a great team who cares about soldiers, sailors, airmen, and Marines, as well as their family members and the retirees who have served their nation so honorably. In addition, the UMT is augmented by some fantastic volunteers. We'll continue to develop the spiritual fitness of the command through worship opportunities, special events, and innovative ministries that strive to meet the needs of our community. Our emphasis is on the spiritual aspects of life at DLI and the importance faith plays in facing the challenges of study, home, and work. There are many opportunities to explore those issues through different chapel-sponsored programs and I hope the community will become more involved in this great journey of faith!" --Lt. Col. Charles D. Reese

Mayors Program Looking For Volunteers

Do you enjoy working for your community? Do you have a couple hours a month that you can volunteer for your community? The Mayors Program is looking for volunteers to work with it and the community.

The events that we have sponsored in the past have been the Quarterly Yard Sales, the Santa Drive through in the housing areas, and the community Easter Egg Hunt at the Marshall Elementary. We are currently looking for representation from the POM housing areas, Stilwell housing area, and we always need street reps to help with the delivery of Mayors Notes and different flyers that we send out to the community. So if you enjoy walking around your community and meeting your neighbors we could use your assistance. If you are interested in a position, or would like more information, please contact the Garrison SGM at 242-6600 or call the Hayes Park Mayor Rhonda Fitz-Randolph at 394-1561 or Vice-Mayor, Tony Billings at 899-1047.

EEO Recruitment:

POM - From the DLI & POME Equal Employment Office: To all of you who have responded or are thinking of responding to the position of Asian/Pacific Islanders/Native Americans/American Indians Employment Program (APAA) Program Manager for EEO: Thank you!

Please be aware that this is a Collateral Duty Position. If you are still interested in this position, please call back! The APAA program sponsors several informative and educational seminars. If you would like to be a part of this exciting group, please call the Equal Employment Opportunity office at 5105. Thank you.

Safety Awareness Week is May 18-22

Talking and Driving Don't Mix

That cellular phone that makes parents of young people rest easier because it can be used to call for help in case of a vehicle breakdown now itself appears to be a risk factor in vehicle accidents.

A study by researchers at the University of Toronto published in the New England Journal of Medicine indicates that people who use cell phones while driving are four to five times more likely to be involved in traffic accidents than nonusers. And the increased chances of an accident can remain as long as 15 minutes after the call has been completed. So it isn't just while you're on the phone that your risk is increased. In fact, telephones that allow the driver's hands to be free do not appear to be safer than hand-held telephones. All age groups of drivers who use cell phones while driving showed increased risk of accidents, but the highest risk was among young people who are still in high school.

Controls:

This is an easy one: find a safe place to pull over, stop your vehicle, and make your call. But watch those emergency lanes on interstates, they weren't intended to be telephone booths and stopping your vehicle in them can present another set of hazards.

Cellular phones are like other distractors, whether it's tuning the radio, trying to look at a map, or dealing with rambunctious kids. A split second's inattention even at low speeds can cause an accident.

Headphones can be hazardous too

Headphones used for Portable Music/Radio while walking, running, bicycling, motorcycling, driving, crossing train tracks, etc., are not safe.

According to AR 385-55, Update Issue 1, Page 8 (Other Prevention Programs), "Wearing of headphones or earphones while driving POVs (two or more wheels) on Army installation roads and streets is prohibited.

Army ‘Values’ Poster Contest held at DLI & POM

Deadline: April 27

Soldiers: (suggested size: 24” x 36”). You have only a few days to create or finish a “Values Poster” for the upcoming local Values Poster Contest.

The local contest, sponsored by 229th Military Intelligence Battalion, is open to all soldiers. Submit your poster to the Battalion S-3 shop by the April 27 deadline. Any media (suggested size is 24” x 36” poster board but it can be smaller. The poster can portray one single value or all seven. Judging will take place soon afterwards. The winning poster will then be copied and issued to the companies. For more information, call S-3 Cpt. Scott Thorlin at 242- 5208.

The theme of the local poster contest is based on the U.S. Army’s recent list of theme values. The new list of seven Army values is:

LOYALTY: Bear true faith and allegiance to the U.S. Constitution, the Army, your unit, and other soldiers.

DUTY: Fulfill your obligations.

RESPECT: Treat people as they should be treated.

SELFLESS-SERVICE: Put the welfare of the nation, the Army, and your subordinates before your own.

HONOR: Live up to all the Army values.

INTEGRITY: Do what’s right, legally and morally.

PERSONAL COURAGE: Face fear, danger, or adversity (Physical or Moral).

Of note:

The Acting Secretary of the Army and Chief of Staff approved the theme and design for the Army Core Values Posters campaign. The posters developed by the Command Information and Products Division (CIPD) are a vital component of the Character Development XXI initiative.

There are 8 posters, seven representing the core values and a consolidated poster listing all values. The distribution scheme is Armywide (Reserve & National Guard units) to company level. Poster size is 16”x20” Brigade and lower and 18”x24” Division and above. The United States Publishing Agency (USPA) will manage the poster program to include resupply. Posters will be distributed in the same manner as regulations.

Currently OCPA is estimating that the field should begin receiving the first set of posters in late May or early June 1998. Printing and distribution takes from 6-10 weeks once the contract is awarded, that process is now underway.

The publication of these posters is a major step forward in the campaign to reinforce to our soldiers that the Army is a valued based institution.

Help your fellow soldier: Annual Campaign 1998 runs through May 2

POM - Army Emergency Relief or AER was established in 1942 to help soldiers and their families overcome times of distress and misfortune. This year marks the 56th Anniversary of AER assistance to Army personnel around the world. In 1997, AER provided $94,318 to 172 soldiers, retirees, and their families in the Presidio of Monterey community. Of this amount, $12,695 was given in the form of grants. Nowhere else is this kind of generous assistance available to help Army families in times of need. Each unit has its own AER representative who can provide the necessary campaign fund raising forms. The command at the Defense Language Institute and Presidio of Monterey encourages everyone to support this campaign. The key personnel are:

National Library Week ends April 25 at Post Libraries

Libraries do make a difference

POM Annex/POM - Chamberlin Library, the community library for the Presidio of Monterey and its annex, and Aiso Library, the academic library for the Defense Language Institute, invite you to visit during National Library Week.

Chamberlin Library on the POM Annex (former Fort Ord) will "retire" its old-fashioned card catalog, which has been replaced by a computerized version, during National Library Week, the 19th through 25th of April.

Starting April 19, community members are invited to take cards from the old card catalog as a souvenir of a technology that served libraries for over one hundred years. Perhaps you'd like to save the cards identifying books by your favorite author or the section about the language you're studying — now's your chance.

As always, library staff members will be happy to help you with your information needs.

Chamberlin Library: located on the POM Annex (former Fort Ord). For additional information, call 242-7680.

Aiso Library: located on the Presidio of Monterey. For information, call 242-5572.

"I Remember Mama" Delivering Plants to Seniors on Mother's Day May 10

MONTEREY - As we celebrate Mother's Day what better way to appreciate our families than to visit someone who is without their families or friends on this day.

Not only will you be giving to our community through service, but you can teach our children, through example, the importance of volunteerism.

This year's "I Remember Mama" project is again welcoming volunteers to deliver flowering plants on Mother's Day to local senior women living in long-term care facilities (i.e. nursing homes and board and care homes).

Children are especially welcomed and encouraged.

Imagine living in a nursing home and having a smiling family take time out of their Mother's Day celebration in order to deliver you a plant.

The seniors are truly thankful for the volunteers who make their Mother's Day memorable.

Many of these seniors have no family members who can visit on a regular basis.

Three ways to volunteer or assist:

1.) To Volunteer: call by Friday, May 8, to OMBUDSMAN "OmBUDDIES" Project Coordinator Mary Ellen Okelberry in Monterey at (408) 333-1300, or call the Salinas OMBUDSMAN branch at (408) 758-4011. Your gift of time will bring an everlasting joy.

2.) To Donate: If you can't volunteer, but would like to help, donations for the purchasing of plants may be made payable to: OMBUDSMAN. Send to OMBUDSMAN/OmBUDDIES, 2200 Garden Road, Monterey, CA 93940.

3.) Know a Senior: If you know of a senior living in a long-term care facility and would like her to receive a plant, give OMBUDSMAN a call at (408) 333-1300. Federally mandated nationwide, nonprofit advocate programs, such as Monterey's OMBUDSMAN for Long-Term Care, are in place to investigate alleged abuses of seniors.

Monterey's ombudsman serves 2,500 seniors who live locally in long-term care facilities.

World Wide Language Olympics

Video Tele Training (VTT) Competition

hosted by DLI
April 20 through May 1

The 1998 Video Tele Training Worldwide Language Olympics competition is planned for the following languages: Arabic (MSA), Chinese Mandarin, Korean, Persian-Farsi, Russian, and Spanish. Language competition is determined by participant interest based on unit registration.

Competitors must meet one of the following requirements: an active duty member of the U.S. Armed Forces; a member of the U.S. Reserve Component; a member of the U.S. National Guard; or a civilian employee of the Federal Government.

Competitors will receive the following awards:

Overall Unit Awards: The three units with the highest averaged scores for all events across all languages are awarded first, second, or third place trophies.

Overall Language Awards: The three units with the highest averaged scores for all events in one language are awarded first, second, or third place trophies.

Event Awards: Each member of the top three teams in each event for each language is awarded a gold, silver, or bronze medal.

The following five events are scheduled to be held for the VTT competition: HANDCOPY, GET THE POINT, WHAT'S MY JOB, POWERWORD, and PICTURE PERFECT

PICTURE PERFECT: The object is to test the linguists' information retention, vocabulary, and communication skills. The prompter will see five (5) pictures on a rotating basis. The prompter will provide a main idea or theme for each picture. Clues from the prompter must be in the target language. The guesser attempts to identify the objects and certain characteristics of the objects, such as color, shape, or other distinguishing characteristics on a separate answer sheet.

POWERWORD: The object of the event is to test vocabulary and speaking skills. There will be four rounds of play. During the first round, one team member gives clues and one guesses; roles reverse for the subsequent rounds. For each round, teams use a packet of 10 cards. All rounds will last two and one-half (2-1/2) minutes.

GET THE POINT: The object of the event is to test reading comprehension and translation abilities. Team members work independently. The entire event is limited to 60 minutes. Time begins when competitors are given five texts in the target language. Competitors read the texts and take notes on one blank 8.5" x 11" sheet of paper. The competitors decide at their own discretion when they are ready to begin the test. They will signal the moderator, hand in their texts, and be given the test. The test consists of 40 multiple choice questions in English. Competitors will complete it based on their notes only.

WHAT'S MY JOB?: The object of this event is to test listening skills and analytical abilities. Six videotaped scenarios will be played. Each scenario will last about 90 seconds, followed by a 30 second pause. Players will be allowed to identify the occupation referred to in the scenario during this time. Additionally, players can identify the key language elements from the scenario which served as a basis of determining the applicable occupation for extra points.

World Wide Language Olympics

Resident Competition

hosted by DLI
May 4 through May 8

The mission of the Worldwide Language Olympics is to provide an incentive for foreign language sustainment and enhancement by recognizing military and federal civilian linguists for demonstrated superior performance involving language.

OPENING CEREMONY - May 4

The opening ceremony for the 1998 Worldwide Language Olympics will take place at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 4, at Soldier Field, located on Stilwell Road.

CLOSING CEREMONY - May 8

The closing ceremony is scheduled for 3:30 p.m., May 8, at Soldier Field. Awards will be presented at that time.

Competitors must be one of the following:

- An active duty member of the Armed Forces.
- A member of the Reserve Component.
- A member of the National Guard.
- A civilian employee of the Federal Government.

Organizations or units (squadron, battalion, command, separate detachment or company) may enter up to three teams per language per organization. Teams comprised of joint service members or a combination of civilian and military personnel are permitted.

Competitions are run on the honor system. All competition will involve two-person teams.

Overall Unit Awards: The three units with the highest averaged scores for all events across all languages are awarded first, second, or third place trophies. In order to qualify for this award, a unit must compete in more than one language.

Overall Language Awards: The three units with the highest averaged scores for all events in one language are awarded first, second, or third place trophies.

Event Awards: The top three teams in each event for each language are awarded a gold, silver, or bronze medal.

Individual participation: Each competitor will receive a memento of the WLO.

There are five events scheduled for the 1998 Resident WLO: HANDCOPY, GET THE POINT, JEOPARDY, TRIATHLON, and WHAT'S MY JOB.

multiple choice test within a time limit based on their handcopy of a recording of target language material. The object of the event is to test listening comprehension, handcopy skills, and translation abilities through a 50-question multiple choice test in English. Competitors, individually, attempt to answer as many questions as they can within 30 minutes using only their handcopy for reference.

GET THE POINT

answer as many questions correctly as possible based on a text they read within an overall time limit. The entire event is limited to 60 minutes. Time begins when competitors are given five texts in the target language. Competitors read the texts and take notes on one blank 8.5" x 11" sheet of paper. The competitors decide at their own discretion when they are ready to begin the test.

PARCOURSE - TRIATHLON

The Triathlon consists of three events: "Who-What-Where, "Where Am I,?" and Numbers Transcription. Team members work independently and as a team and attempt to complete a variety of tasks within time limits at different stations. There are multiple objectives: transcription, translation, listening comprehension, reading, and speaking skills.

The event will take place on Soldier Field, across from the Weckerling Center on the Presidio of Monterey. Competitors will run over a course measuring approximately 1-1/2 miles stopping at each of the three stations where they must complete a different language-related tasks before moving to the next station. While physical prowess is not required, the overall completion time is a factor in scoring, so the speed of a competitor in running from station to station could influence the overall score.

The Triathlon consists of three events: "Who-What-Where," "Where Am I,?" and "Numbers Transcription."

Station #1, "Who-What-Where": The object of this station is to test the competitors' ability to elicit biographical information from people. Using a 24-item questionnaire text, and be given the test. The test consists of 40 multiple choice questions in English to be completed based on the competitors notes only. Each correct answer is worth 5 points.

Station #2, "Where am I?": The purpose of this game is to identify places or landmarks on a map based on instructions provided by a teammate. The map may be of a city, suburban area, geographic region, or entire country. One player, the navigator, will have a map with specific points identified; the navigator will direct his partner, the explorer.

Station #3, "Numbers Transcription": each player is given a cassette player with headset, pencil, and paper on clipboard. Each will start the cassette player and handcopy the recording of numbers.

A maximum of 100 points can be attained at each of the three stations. Additionally, a maximum of 50 points can be earned based on the team's overall time to complete the course.

JEOPARDY

The object of this event is to test general knowledge of the target country and culture, and speaking skills. For Single Jeopardy, the board is divided into four categories: Physical Geography, Science, 1997, and Culture. For Double Jeopardy, the categories will be Military, Politics, Economics, and Technology. The Final Jeopardy category will be on any topic. Each category has five questions that are assigned a specific point value. Players choose a category and a point value. All Jeopardy play is conducted in the target language with the exception of naming the category and point values. Competitors who wish to answer will ring in. The moderator will announce which competitor signaled first, then give that person five seconds to give a response. The answer must be phrased in the form of a question. Each player will have five minutes. The players may use only the target language for their communications, but the questionnaires will be in English. Time limit for the first station is ten minutes.

WHAT'S MY JOB

Team members work independently. Competitors attempt to correctly identify each specific job by viewing and listening to videotaped scenarios in the target language. The object of this event is to test listening skills and analytical abilities.

The event judge briefs the players on the rules before the start of the event.

Each player will be provided with an answer sheet. The videotape consisting of six scenarios will be played, followed by one segment which will be used as a tiebreaker if necessary. Each scenario will last about 90 seconds, followed by a 30 second pause.

IG Inquiry into DLI Audio Tape Quality

DO YOU HAVE BAD DLI AUDIO TRAINING TAPES?

Do You Know Someone Who Does?

Free Candy! For the next 60 days, we will provide you a replacement tape and trade Hershey's® candy for each bad quality DLI audio tape you give us.

Many people over the years have complained about tape related problems, and we want to find out EXACTLY what is wrong and see if it can be fixed. We are trying to identify bad audio tapes and the reason they are bad.

We want to know the problem(s), but to do that, we need actual tapes in our hands, not just stories and reports. If there are bad master tapes, malfunctioning recording equipment, reused tapes, or poor quality blank tapes - we want to know!

We will try to minimize your inconvenience, and provide a small reward for your help.

First, if you have a bad tape either tag it with a label or tape, or put it in an envelope that identifies who you are and how to get your replacement and chocolate to you.

Then you may do one of three things:

- a. Drop it with your unit (Collector's name below) and they will pass it to us, or
- b. Drop it at the IG office. (B341 between the flag pole and CPO office) or
- c. If you have five or more bad tapes you can call us direct (242-5205) and we will arrange to get them from you.

INSTRUCTIONS TO COLLECTORS:

When personnel drop tapes with you, please make sure you have identified who they are and how to get replacements and chocolate back to them.

Call the IG office (242-5205) and tell Ms. Suter when you have either five tapes or it has been five days. She will come pick them up from you. (We will also pick up fewer than five if it is important to get the replacement quickly)

We will also provide incentive chocolate to the most active tape collector each week!

California Virtual University (CVU)

CVU is a joint project of the University of California, California State University, California Community Colleges and the Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities (over 300 in number). Currently 81 campuses have linked to the CVU catalog, for a total of more than 700 courses available. It is now possible to access CVU on-line catalogs by subject ranging from Arts/Architecture to Vocational Education. CVU catalogs can also do searches by specific school in the UC, CSU, CCC or Independent College and University branches.

Teaching Credentials on the Internet through CVU

With 20,000 teachers holding emergency credentials in classrooms today, and with a projected need for 250,000 new teachers in the next decade, the California State University (CSU) has launched CredtialNET to enable teachers to pursue credentials using the Internet and other technologies, without having to take time away from their classrooms.

Enrollment in the program is expected to balloon from the current level of 100 to over 3,000 in the next 18 months. Contact <http://www.california.edu>

How do you take a class on the Internet?

Several of the campuses participating in the California Virtual University have created on-line tours of their virtual courses to help prospective students become acquainted with the technology behind on-line and distance education. To explore some of the following examples, punch in <http://www.california.edu/tour.html>

The UCLA Extension offers a tour site, that demonstrates how UCLA courses are conducted on-line.

UC Berkeley Extension provides a demonstration of their courses offered through America On-Line.

Golden Gate University's Cyber Campus offers a free, on-line demonstration course in Effective Web Searching.

TYLENOL, MOTRIN, and "CRUTCHES"...

Daypro, Superior Pain Medicine, Bayer Select, Aleve, Orudis SR, Midol, Ketoprofen, Genpril, Nuprin, Synflex, Flurbiprofen, Advil, Naprosyn, Ibuprofen, Motrin...

What do all these medications have in common?

They all share the same active ingredient - Propionic Acid. Propionic Acid is the active ingredient of all NSAIDS (Non-Steroidal Anti Inflammatory) Over and over I hear the same comments; "Motrin doesn't work for me. I need Advil" (or Naprosyn or any one of the other 60+ Propionic Acids). Or that "I've used Motrin so much that I have built up a tolerance for Motrin."

RANGER Candy. Why does the military use Motrin so often?

NSAIDS are superior to other pain relievers in their anti-inflammatory effects. Tylenol is an antipyretic (fever reducer) and a pain reliever, but has no effect on swelling that is associated with acute injuries (sprains, strains and soft tissue damage). Narcotics are great pain relievers, but do nothing for fever or swelling. Only NSAIDS are an effective anti-pyretic/ anti-inflammatory/ pain reliever all in one. Propionic Acid works by blocking prostaglandins, which are mediators for chemicals involved in the production of inflammation and pain. Because of its mechanism of action a tolerance cannot be built up, nor does a higher dose necessarily mean better relief of symptoms. Motrin in 200mg caplets can be bought over the counter, and the maximum effective dose is 800mg (the prescription dose) and 1600mg will not provide any more relief, but will increase the chances of adverse side effects. Motrin is cheap ($.003/tab) and effective.

Are all NSAIDS created equally?

No. Although they all share the same active ingredient (propionic acid), some brand names will add caffeine, Tylenol, decongestants or other ingredients to prolong or alter the intended effects. Motrin for example is taken three times per day, Naprosyn twice, and Ketoprofen once per day. This also corresponds to their price as the more often the patient has to take it, the cheaper the drug; (a higher price for convenience) and to their side effects, as the less often a drug must be taken, the higher the risks of side effects.

Are NSAIDS safe?

For the majority of patients taking them NSAIDS are quite safe. The main categories of patients who should be careful are patients with a history or possibility of gastrointestinal bleeding (peptic ulcer disease) or bleeding disorders, and patients with severe liver disease, or impaired renal functioning (kidney disease). NSAIDS can irritate mucosal surfaces, prolong bleeding time, and are excreted via the liver and finally, the kidney relies on prostaglandin for proper functioning and therefore care must be taken when blocking these chemicals as kidney failure can result in patients with previously compromised kidney function. Because all NSAIDS work alike, it is not practical to combine different namebrands as this will just increase the likelihood of side-effect; though it is useful to combine Motrin with Tylenol to enhance their anti-pyretic effect and reduce a stubborn fever.
